

"TASMANIA CAN LEAD THE WORLD IN SUSTAINABILITY!"

"In many ways, Tassie has already led the world. The Tasmanian Environment Centre (now Sustainable Living Tasmania) was amongst the first organisations dedicated to environmental sustainability, Permaculture was developed by Tasmanian Bill Mollison, and Coles Bay was the first town in the world to ban plastic bags."

Sustainable Living is a process of practical transition towards societies that are ecologically resilient, economically prosperous, politically just and culturally rich.

Our vision is for Tasmania to become a place the rest of the world looks to for inspiration on living happy, healthy and sustainable lives.

Showing you how.

Who are we?

We are a non-political, not-for-profit organisation established in 1972 (originally as the "Tasmanian Environment Centre").

We help Tasmanian communities to live happy, healthy and sustainable lives, through:

- ✔ Community projects, such as community gardens, or helping low-income households to reduce their power bills through energy efficiency education and upgrades.
- ✔ Impartial, expert advice on all matters relating to sustainable living.
- ✔ Events, from tailored workshops to our annual flagship event - Tasmania's Sustainable Living Expo.
- ✔ Nurturing Tasmania's sustainable business sector through events such as Tasmania's Sustainable Living Expo and our Sustainable Living Business program.
- ✔ Supporting community groups, such as Transition Tasmania, Bicycle Tasmania, Climate Action Hobart, Be The Change, Food Alliance Tasmania and many more!
- ✔ Facilitating partnerships between community groups, businesses, educational institutions and government departments.
- ✔ Advocacy on government policy that supports the transition to happy, healthy and sustainable communities.

Thank you – your generous support will help us continue our vital work.
